

Book Launch and Lecture by Professor Lubomyr Luciuk

Lubomyr T. Luciuk

is a professor of political geography at the Royal Holloway College of London and a fellow of the Chair of European Studies at the University of Toronto.

Holodomor

Reflections on the Great Famine of 1932-1933 in Soviet Ukraine

edited by Lubomyr T. Luciuk

That millions of Ukrainians perished during the Great Famine of 1932-1933 is now accepted even if the causes, causes and consequences of what has come to be known as the Holodomor remain contested. This volume brings together articles by journalists, public intellectuals and scholars on what was one of the greatest crimes against humanity in 20th century Europe.

Saturday, 20 February 2009

2:00 pm

UNF Library, 145 Evans Ave., Toronto, Ontario M8Z 5G7

[Hiltington and Evans Ave.]

Books will be available for sale and signatures

Sponsored by the Ukrainian Canadian Civil Liberties Foundation